Is Your Child's Car Seat Installed Properly?

The City of Auburn, in conjunction with the Alabama Safe Kids Coalition, is pleased to announce that a Safe Kids Car Seat Check Up Event will be held at City Hall on Saturday, May 5th from 1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. This event is the second such event offered by the City to provide life-saving child passenger safety information and hands-on car seat installation assistance as a free service to Auburn residents.

The City of Auburn has initiated contact with the Alabama Safe Kids Coalition to set up two training sessions in April and May and host this event. Certified City of Auburn public safety personnel will serve as in-house technicians assisted by other certified technicians from throughout Alabama.

Mayor Bill Ham stated, "Due to the overwhelming response we received from the Car Seat Check Up event we hosted last year, I am glad that we will be able to provide this service again to our citizens. This event allows parents and caregivers to have a trained technician evaluate the installation of their car seats to make sure they are properly installed to fit the needs of their child. I sincerely encourage Auburn families to take advantage of this program so that our children ride throughout Auburn safely restrained."

Research has shown that approximately 30 percent of children still ride unrestrained and 85 percent of car seats continue to be used incorrectly in some way. The safest way for a child to travel in a vehicle is to be properly restrained in a rear seat. Parents should secure infants in a rear-facing car seat until they reach at least one year and 20 pounds, toddlers in a forward-facing car seat, and older children in a belt-positioning booster until they can comfortably wear the vehicle seatbelt while sitting all the way back in the seat.

Due to variations of car seats, vehicle seats, and safety belt systems, the best way to make sure your child's car seat is installed properly is to read thoroughly both the car seat manual and your vehicle owner's manual and to have the installed seat inspected by a certified technician. Even if your car seat was checked at last year's event, your child's restraint needs may have changed due to the age of your child or the purchase of a new family vehicle. For more information on car seat safety and the national campaign, visit www.safekids.org. For more information on this event, call Assistant City Manager Wendy Hassett at 821-1900.

Police Officer Steven Davis checks the installation of a car seat.

The Coffeehouse Concept:

Bringing Young Adults into the Library

The Young Adult Coffeehouse was introduced in the summer of 2000 as part of the annual summer programs at the Auburn Public Library. Prior to the end of the school year, the program was widely publicized to introduce this new concept to Auburn teens and attract a following of young adults.

Attendance has grown from six students who attended the first program to a current average attendance of thirty to fifty students. Topics addressed in this program have included a poetry slam, Car Talk (how to buy your first car, maintain it and insure it), Urban Tales and Internet Hoaxes, Reader's Theatre Night, LEOs (Law Enforcement Officers) and Police Exploring, and a Christmas party that featured the Auburn High School varsity choir.

Currently, the group is making plans to start a teen advisory council and teen "ambassadors" to greet people at the programs and assist during the programs. The Young Adult Coffeehouse meets the first Thursday of every month from 6:30 p.m. – 7:30 p.m. at the Library. If you would like more information about this or any other programs offered at the Library, call 887-4997.

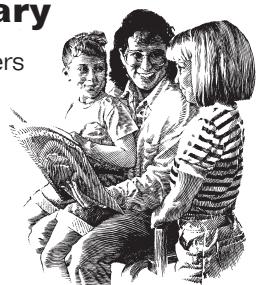

Young adults meet monthly at the Auburn Public Library's Young Adult Coffeehouse.

Citizen Survey Results Are In

For sixteen years, the City of Auburn has conducted an annual telephone opinion survey to determine how you feel about City services and major projects and initiatives. The City Council has found the survey to be of great help in monitoring the quality of City services and in establishing budget priorities for future years. The 2001 survey has recently been completed and results are posted on the City's web site, www.auburnalabama.org. Copies are also available at City Hall for review.

Planning Department staff, in conjunction with the Office of the City Manager, develops the survey, and provides the training and oversight of the interviewers. Telephone numbers of citizens called are randomly selected from all of the Water Board accounts and directories. From the pool of randomly selected citizens, 1604 calls were placed which resulted in 616 completed interviews conducted over a two-week period beginning in early February.

A preliminary examination of the responses indicates that the citizens of Auburn are generally satisfied with City services. One question of the survey was, "Overall, how would you rate the services provided by the City of Auburn." Over 93 percent of those surveyed rated the services either 'excellent' or 'good.'

When asked about priorities of the City government, the respondents named the school system (38.6%) as the top priority, and police protection as the second highest priority. Those surveyed also reported that they believe Auburn is a safe community. Nearly 99 percent said they 'always' or 'most of the time' feel safe in the City and 97.6 percent said they feel safe in their neighborhoods.

We thank all 616 citizens who participated in this year's survey.

Check Your Cell Phone

The majority of all 911 calls are made via cell phone, but many of these are accidental. Many cell phones have an "Emergency One Touch 9" feature that automatically dials 911 when the 9 key is held down for several seconds. When a cell phone is left in a backpack, pocket or purse, other items may press the keys on the key pad and inadvertently dial 911. Armrests and seats in vehicles can also cause accidental 911 calls. These calls tie up emergency operators and phone lines, which are needed for actual emergency calls.

Remember - all 911 calls are recorded on tape and an accidental 911 call is no exception. Many private conversations are recorded due to an accidental 911 call. Consult your owner's manual for your cell phone if you wish to disable the "Emergency One Touch 9" feature.

Holiday Closure
